development, networking, representation and profile through association*

Declaration of Joint Purpose and Vision:

The Canadian Council of Child and Youth Care Associations and the Association for Child and Youth Care Practice are committed to collaboration to strengthen the Child and Youth Care profession through accreditation and certification. It is our belief that education and advocacy will expand the availability of high quality services offered for youth and families by organizations and practitioners. We are optimistic about the future of Child and Youth Care practice. We believe in the importance of investment at all levels for the optimal development and potential to be achieved for children, youth, and families.
